What's new in... SKINCARE

The latest skin innovations, in-store this month

1. CAUDALIE PREMIER CRU LA CRÈME RICHE is formulated to provide comfort and anti-ageing nourishment to the driest of skin. Active ingredients include 'youth molecule' resveratrol, radiance-enhancing Viniferine and anti-oxidant grape seed polyphenols. It also contains a 100% botanical complex of three ultra-nourishing waxes – jojoba, mimosa and sunflower – for ultra moisturisation. RRP £92.50, Caudalie, uk.caudalie.com.

2. YIN YANG SKINCARE, founded in 1973 by food technologist Katie May, is relaunching under the new ownership of FS International. The natural, plant based skincare range's key ingredient is soya protein, technologically adapted using a fermentation process taken from the food industry. Katie May will work closely with the new team advising on NPD, formulations and protein technology. RRP from £4.99, FS International, yinyangskincare.com.

3. MURAD RAPID COLLAGEN INFUSION is, according to the brand, the first product to penetrate the skin with pure collagen, by breaking it down into its components of amino acids small enough to penetrate skin. The multi-tasking wrinkle fighting and collagen building formula promotes healthy collagen and hydration levels, for plumper, smoother skin and reduced lines and wrinkles. RRP £78, Murad, murad.co.uk.

4. ELIZABETH ARDEN EIGHT HOUR CREAM SKIN PROTECTANT NIGHTTIME MIRACLE MOISTURISER nourishes, hydrates and soothes skin through the night for the ultimate beauty sleep. A blend of emollients and moisturisers soften skin and seal in moisture, while salicylic acid smoothes skin by removing dead skin cells. Anti-oxidant vitamin E protects from environmental aggressors and lavender helps to calm and relax the senses to aid rest. RRP £32, Elizabeth Arden, elizabetharden.co.uk.
